From East Coast to West Coast, Study USA works in partnership with universities and colleges across the US.

What will I study?

Students take business-related classes, with the option of pure science and engineering for those from these disciplines.

“Anyone who wants to broaden their horizons, meet people from all over the world, and expand their skill set should apply for Study USA. My experience did all of this and more for me.”

Ryan Lavelle,
North Central College

What are the costs?

Study USA is funded by the Department for the Economy. Funding covers accommodation, meals, flights and textbooks. Tuition fees are waived by the US colleges and universities.

There is a participation fee of £1500 which is waived for those in receipt of a means-tested maintenance grant.

Am I eligible?

- ★ You don't need to be a business student to apply. Students from a huge range of backgrounds have benefitted from developing business skills in the USA.
- ★ Study USA is open to all full-time, level 2 year students of ANY discipline, from degree courses here in Northern Ireland.
- ★ Students studying a HND or Foundation degree at a College here in Northern Ireland can apply in year 1 of their course.
